

TRAVELERS' CHOICE award for the Museum

We are proud to announce that the Lubin Open Air Village Museum has been awarded a quality certificate Travelers' Choice by the world's largest travel site TripAdvisor .

For over a decade, this award has been a recognition of institutions and tourist attractions that constantly receive high marks. The certification is based on the quality, timeliness, and number of amazingly favorable reviews submitted to TripAdvisor within 12 months. Travelers' Choice winners are among the top 10% of properties on TripAdvisor.

TripAdvisor is a website dedicated to tourism collecting opinions about tourist attractions in the world. With 760 million reviews and opinions on the world's largest tourist destination database, with approximately 8.3 million accommodations, airlines, attractions and restaurants, TripAdvisor travelers can familiarize themselves with the reviews and based on that make decisions about for example choosing the way of spending free time. The sites that partner with TripAdvisor are available on 49 markets and record an average of 490 million unique visits per month, thus creating the world's largest travel community, whose members are committed to getting the most out of each trip they organize.
